

A Special Opportunity for Home Visitors

A team in the FSU College of Nursing and Department of Communication Science and Disorders are conducting a research study to understand how to better help moms feeding their baby in a way that promotes healthy growth and development. We are especially interested in promoting responsive infant feeding. We will be interviewing moms and home visiting personnel to learn more.

- Do you work for a maternal-child home visiting program?
- Do you currently, or have you in the past, had a caseload of clients?
- Do you want to help researchers learn more about how to help high-risk families?

If you answered yes to the above questions, you may be eligible to participate in a research study with Florida State University.

Benefits

Help us learn how we can support caregivers in early feeding

Connect with the community

Earn $30 for your time

If interested...

please contact the study team to learn more:

850-792-4537 (text or call)

or email

healthystartforbaby@gmail.com

